AUDIENCE PARTICIPATION

Ryan Hodges, Firelands Habitat for Humanity, 7602 Milan Road, wished to thank the Commission once again for their continued support as well as your concern of the well-being of the citizens of the City of Sandusky. To date Firelands Habitat for Humanity has built 112 homes since 1990, 50 of which are in the City of Sandusky. With this agreement he looks forward to providing five more families with affordable housing. Thank you for your investment in the future of these families and for investing in your City, and for trusting us to work alongside you in this partnership.

PRESENTATION: Recreation Center, Nancy Nozik, Brandstetter-Carroll

Ms. Nozik stated her office is in downtown Cleveland and they have been working with City staff and engaging the public on this project for a little over three months. In site selection and conceptual design they performed citizen engagement with 3466 people, they visited 4 facilities for case studies, they narrowed down to 3 options of scope, 4 sites were considered, 3 options of scale/cost, designed site and building layouts, and projected expense and revenue costs. For citizen engagement they had 2827 respondents to an online survey, they presented to 11 stakeholder groups with 91 participants, and engaged 548 participants at Kids Fest. Of the 2827 responses, 62% reside in Sandusky, 19% in Perkins Township. The respondents were 56% between 18-44 years old, 38% between 45-74 years old. 81% of all respondents strongly support it and 83% of Sandusky residents strongly support the facility. An operational levy had 48% that strongly support, 25% that moderately support, 19% not sure if they support, and 8% that would not support. The top ten responses for activities include: 1. Indoor walking/running track, 2. Outdoor swimming, 3. Fitness classes, 4. Indoor fitness machines/weightlifting, 5. Community events, 6. Outdoor walking/running track, 7. Wellness programs, 8. Indoor basketball, 9. Outdoor splash pad, 10. Rentable community spaces. Reasons stakeholders cited for a recreation center included: wellness, fitness, sports, community gathering – for the local community, attract and retain residents, give kids a place to go and something to do. Challenges identified: cost to build, cost to operate, cost to participate, cost of marketing, hours of operation, location, communication of the plan. Opportunities identified: sports training, physical therapy, variety of membership, jobs, partnerships – hospital, non-profits, schools, corporations. The four recreation center case studies were done at: Bowling Green Community Center (79,000sf, built 2005, no pool), Fremont Recreation Center (59,000sf, build 2000, outdoor pool, ice rink), Massillon Recreation Center (69,000sf, built 2002, indoor pool), Norwalk Ernsthausen Recreation Center (59,000sf, build 1989, indoor pool, outdoor pool). Three proposed recreation center options include: Option 1: cost $32,450,000., Operating Cost $16sf = $1,328,000 annually, Revenue $4sf = $332,000 annually, Gap $996,000 annually, 83,000sf, large community room, 4 classrooms, 4 exercise rooms, fitness equipment, 2 basketball courts, 2 multi-purpose courts, 1 turf field, 1/8-mile indoor track. Option 2: cost $18,567,000., Operating Cost $16sf = $784,000 annually, Revenue $4sf = $196,000 annually, Gap $588,000 annually, 49,000sf, 2 community rooms, 2 classrooms, 2 exercise rooms, fitness equipment, 2 basketball courts, 1 turf field, 1/10-mile indoor track. Option 3: cost $13,750,000., Operating Cost $16sf = $576,000 annually, Revenue $4sf = $144,000 annually, Gap $432,000 annually, 2 community rooms, 1 classroom, 2 exercise rooms, fitness equipment, 1 basketball court, 1 turf field, 1/12-mile indoor track. All include office space, restrooms, and locker rooms. They considered 7 locations and narrowed it to 4: Jackson School, Mills School, American Crayon site, and Jaycee Park. When scored, the American Crayon site and Jaycee Park scored highest for land cost, utilities available, environmental conditions, construction cost, site size, program compliance, zoning, future expansion, central location, traffic impact, visual impact, walkability, and public transport. Jackson School has a large gymnasium, indoor pool (needs upgrading), would need to purchase from schools, use of balcony?, need ADA accessibility, limited parking, no expansion room. Mills School is currently used by the City in a strong neighborhood, has enough land for now, would need to purchase from schools, not centrally located, no expansion room. American Crayon site is City owned, centrally located, has plenty of land for expansion, near schools, site preparation adds $1-1.5M to construction cost. Jaycee Park is City owned, centrally located, has plenty of land for expansion, is adjacent to residences. A 1.26M levy would provide $672,000 annually per the County Auditor to offset these costs.

COMMENTS:

Mr. Murray stated one of the questions that has been debated on the internet has been the amount the levy would generate. Mr. Orzech confirmed the above figures from the County Auditor. Mr. Murray stated the numbers of responses have shown the community interest in this recreation center. The center cannot be all things to all people. We must make choices about directions to go. There has been talk about making this a community center – and he does not think that is what this should be. He believes we need to deliver what was promised, a recreation center. There has been no commitment about an indoor pool. We do not want to compete with the Sandusky Schools and the new aquatic center they are constructing. We will consider an outdoor pool or a splash pad, considering the budget. We will have to be creative and responsible with the budget. He would like to put to rest the rumors of ballot stuffing. He asked Ms. Nozik to explain the controls in place to prevent this. Ms. Nozik responded about the online survey, they recommended not to allow only one survey per source because that would only allow one member per family computer to give their responses. They have gone through and sorted multiple times throughout the process from the IP addresses and there were only 8 instances where more than 2 people responded from the same IP address. The data was different in each case. There is no evidence of ballot stuffing. Mr. Poggiali inquired how the revenue would be generated. Ms. Nozik explained it could be a wide range of things including: membership fees, city and non-resident fees difference, class costs, space rentals. It makes sense that residents would pay lower membership fees based on the taxes they pay. Some centers open for 24-hour access. Every center operates differently as far as staffing and programming. Mr. Meinzer stated he did not believe classrooms or community rooms were a priority at a rec center. Ms. Nozik explained these rooms were flexible spaces for fitness classes of any kind. Mr. Poole asked for a breakdown of the numbers used for operating and revenue. Ms. Nozik said that information would be provided to the commission. She stated there are additional public sessions scheduled. If this is placed on the ballot there will be more community engagement and education, so the voter knows exactly what they are voting for. There is more work that needs to be done and decisions made before we get to that point. Mr. Waddington inquired what the deadline was to get this on the November ballot? Mr. Orzech stated we would need to decide by the last July commission meeting on July 24. Mr. Brady asked what the next step would be in the process to keep this going forward, would it be site selection? Ms. Nozik stated site selection is important to get the voters onboard, but it is not required to put it on the ballot. Mr. Harris added he wanted to thank Ms. Nozik for the work she has done on this project and presentation. Mr. Harris questions if there will be support for a rec center without a pool, support may be cut by 1/3. He is not sure about the partnership with the schools about an aquatic center. Mr. Poole thanked Ms. Nozik for her work as well. Mr. Brady stated the work they have done has laid a pretty clear path to decide on location. Mr. Brady asked if the commission was prepared to make this decision tonight. Mr. Meinzer made motion, second by Mr. Waddington to select the American Crayon site as the Recreation Center site. Mr. Murray stated although the JC Park location is desirable, the American Crayon location it is a very visible site, it has way more traffic than JC Park, it is right next to the schools, it is right in the middle of town, it is a prefect location. Mr. Poole stated he is not sold on the whole idea as it is, and the American Crayon site is his last choice, he believes it is an unsuitable site because it is next to the railroad tracks. The building will shake and crack the foundation because of trains, the noise will deter outdoor activity. It will not be a great user experience with the trains. Additionally, we are talking about spending $13M and ultimately the taxpayers will decide. Twelve years ago, when we started the conversation about a Recreation Center the room was filled with people who wanted it, tonight no one is here to talk about it. He believes there are more things of value to spend this money on. He does not see the demand for this size of investment. Mr. Harris stated he is in favor of the idea of a Rec Center, but has reservations on the American Crayon site. At the onset he believed it was a great location until JC Park became an option. Roll call on the motion: Mr. Poggiali, Mr. Waddington, Mr. Harris-Nay, Mr. Meinzer, Mr. Poole-Nay, Mr. Murray, and Mr. Brady, 5. President Brady declared this motion passed, the American Crayon is the selected site.

Comment:

Mr. Poggiali asked what the new fee percentage was in comparison to the old fee? Ms. Reeder explained that currently we use Beacon Medical Services at 7.5%, this agreement puts us at 4.5% for the first three years, and then at 4.625% for years four through six. The maximum cap we will be paying in years one through three is $52,000 and years four through six is $55,000. Our previous medical biller is retiring, through the RFP process we received five bids, and this was the best fit for the City, and will be a savings for the EMS Fund. They are a multi-state company with good references. Mr. Meinzer wanted to comment that many times the elderly were afraid to call the ambulance because of the bill. There is a hardship form that can be filled out if someone meets those criteria, then the bill will be waived. If you do not have a medical necessity you will not get into the Emergency Room any faster by calling 9-1-1 and you will get billed. Mr. Poole wanted to say to the Finance Director and the City Manager thank you that this was good work.

Mr. Brady stated that he and Mr. Orzech were in attendance at the Kiwanis Club Meeting last Thursday and we received this nice plaque from them in appreciation of our contribution to the Dolly Parton Imagination Library. This accounted for 2,400 students in Erie County taking part in this program, and a vast majority of these students are residents of Sandusky. These dollars are well spent.

NEW BUSINESS

President Brady called for motion for the 2024 Tax Budget Public Hearing at the next meeting. Upon motion of Mr. Murray, and second by Mr. Meinzer, the commission scheduled a Public Hearing for the 2024 Tax Budget at the 07.10.23 meeting. President Brady declared this motion passed.

AUDIENCE PARTICIPATION

Tom Lamarca, 206 48th Street, stated he believed some of the lack of attendance tonight may have been based on the fact that people believe they cannot comment at all regarding the Recreation Center. He thinks that the fees will be an issue with many of the taxpayers. Taxpayers were not mentioned as stakeholders. It seemed it was the same group of business owners. He does not think a lot of the elderly went online to participate in the survey. The fees will be an issue the same as they were with the YMCA, we could not support the YMCA, big organizations gave to it, but many residents could not afford the fees associated with it. We may run into that same problem here with the Rec Center. We need to take a good look at that. He stated he would be dead and gone before it was up and running, but it would still be around for the rest of the City. Pools have been the outcry as many tonight have stated, and it doesn't seem to be part of the plan. It appears to be an afterthought. Without a pool he does not believe it will work, or what classrooms and meeting rooms have to do with a Rec Center. Pickleball is big now – maybe that should have been considered, are two basketball courts enough? A solution to keep kids from crossing the tracks at the American Crayon site is going to be a problem – a twelve foot fence needs to be added along the tracks. Do we have a water pressure problem downtown serving all of these new buildings and apartments, is there enough pressure for all these new projects? Mr. Poole asked Mr. Snyder to address this question. Mr. Snyder stated that there is always room for improvement, but like the Columbus Avenue project we are replacing a ninety-year-old water line. He stated most buildings over three stories in most of the City will need to add their own pumps to meet fire suppression. No town in the USA can expect pressure in those high buildings without added pumps within. Mr. Poole asked if we filled all the second floors that are vacant now with apartments and people, what would Mr. Snyder recommend that we do to the water lines downtown? Mr. Snyder stated he would have to have more information to give an answer in each case. Mr. Poole would like a plan to see where long-term pipes will have to be replaced. Mr. Snyder stated that when a water line is upgraded on a single street it improves the whole area – not just that street. Mr. Meinzer stated he was under the impression that the schools were going to build the pools and we were going to give money toward their efforts. Mr. Poole added he thought the schools had already decided against two pools, it is going to be one pool. President Brady stated we will be getting an update from the School Superintendent at the July 10 meeting.

EXECUTIVE SESSIONADJOURNMENT

Upon motion of Mr. Meinzer, the Commission moved to adjourn at 6:16 p.m. President Brady declared the meeting adjourned.
